Invitation
Welcome to the Dick Killander symposium Tuesday October 3, 2017 in Piratensalen, Grand Hotel in Lund.

To celebrate prof. Dick Killander’s 80th birthday the division of oncology and pathology will arrange a symposium that we hope will be of great interest for both clinicians and basic scientists.

The symposium will be free of charge but, as the number of seats is limited, you have to sign up no later than September 9 on the following link:
https://goo.gl/forms/BKfIrVTE5iWUjqx1.

Welcome on October 3, 2017!

Program
15:45-16:15 Get-together with light food
16:15-16:20 Welcome address, dr. Lars Ekblad
16:20-16:50 Prof. Dick Killander: 58 års onkologikontakt – egna upplevelser hittills
Chair: prof. Bo Baldetorp
16:50-17:20 Prof. Jennifer Landsberg, University of Bonn: Inflammation as epigenetic regulator of melanoma cell plasticity in therapy resistance
Chair: dr. Göran Jönsson
17:20-17:50 Dr. David Ulmert, Memorial Sloan Kettering Cancer Center, New York: Targeting Secreted Antigens for Precision Imaging and Therapy
Chair: prof. Sven-Erik Strand
17:50-18:00 Paus
18:00-18:30 Prof. Åke Borg, div. Oncology and Pathology, Lund: Translating breast cancer research into clinical diagnostics.
Chair: dr. Lars Ekblad
18:30-19:30 Panel discussion: Oncology research in the future.
Moderator prof. Håkan Olsson
19:30-
Dinner

The symposium is arranged by the division of oncology and pathology with economic support from Gunnar Nilssons cancerstiftelse, John och Augusta Perssons stiftelse and Fru Berta Kamprads stiftelse för utforskning och bekämpning av cancersjukdomar.