The Ethics Council invites you to a guest lecture:

Academic Freedom under Political Pressure?
The Realities of Academic Freedom in Sweden

5 March 2018 | 12:00–13:30 | Eden Auditorium

Professor Terence Karran of the University of Lincoln has been invited by the Ethics Council to talk about his comparative study of Legal and Normative Protection for Academic Freedom in Europe.

Anders Ekbom, Professor Emeritus at the Karolinska Institute, will give an account of concrete cases in which Swedish public authorities have found themselves in a conflict of interest with researchers prior to publication of research results. You are welcome to listen and take part in the discussion.

Lunch sandwiches will be served.

Date: 5 March 2018
Time: 12:00–13:30
Place: Eden auditorium

Register: http://delegia.com/guestlecture5mars